

WEBSITES, TIMELY AND SCHOLARLY

Professor Wilson's Recommendations

Current Issues Updated Schedule:

Every other week

Beginning on October 1st

1:00 Eastern Time

CurrentIssuesAndTheConstitution.com

Or Call (425) 440-5100 | Use Conf ID: 026375#

Research These Sites:

1. Up-to-date information on national election races

http://www.realclearpolitics.com/epolls/latest\_polls/ (election 2014, Nov. 4)

2. A variety of materials on the meaning and reality of the first ten amendments to the Constitution

<http://billofrightsinsitute.org/>

3. Tens of thousands of primary source documents on the American experience

<http://www.archives.gov/education/>

4. An interactive site that allows the student to explore the Constitution with various approaches (be sure to explore the Constitution link)

<http://constitutioncenter.org/constitution>

5. It is very important to follow current events daily.

Choose a news source, follow current events daily using websites or television

For our first show, please review, study and discuss these sections of the Constitution ...think about current events and issues as you do so.

Foreign Affairs:

- Article I, Section VIII, Clauses II, III, IX, X, XI, XII, XII
- Article II, Section II, Clauses I and II
- Article II, Section III, Clauses III

Congressional Election:

- Article I, Section II, Clauses I and II
- Article I, Section III, Clauses I thru IV