

Top Six CEO Traits to Help You Run Your Home

Mission:

We are busy moms and dads with multi tasks that all need our attention at once. What is the mission for your family? Do you have a mission statement?

Top 6 CEO Traits to apply to your family?

1. A CEO is a leader:

- Who is the leader in your family? Do your kids follow the leader's direction? What can you do to improve this, if there is an issue?

2. A CEO determines strategic direction:

- What is the direction your family is heading?
Does everyone know the direction? Is everyone working together as a family toward a common goal? Are all the jobs and responsibilities tied to this goal?

3. A CEO is a Decision Maker:

- What are your family needs?
- What are your family values?
- What are your family goals?

4. A CEO determines day-to-day management decisions:

- What are your long term goals? Do you know how to reach them using short term goals?
- What are your short term goals?
- Organize and delegate jobs –follow through, is everyone performing their tasks satisfactorily?

5. A CEO is a liaison between people:

- Who communicates needs between the children and the parents? Is mom the main caregiver and does she let dad know what is happening? Do you rely on a parent, grandparent or friend?
- Do the children understand what is expected of them and how to communicate their needs?

6. A CEO Manages Resources

- Who manages the money?
- How is it used for groceries, household needs, homeschooling, savings, etc.
- Do mom and dad meet to discuss financial needs?
- Do the children receive an allowance or have specific needs that need a budget?

Please listen to VintageHomeschoolMoms.com weekly, share this podcast with a friend, and give us a rating on your favorite media player!

